RESPONSE TO NOTIFICATION OF MISSING REQUIREMENTS

Sir:

We have received a Notification of Missing Requirements as attached because the inventor's signature (Shih Hsuan Ming) does not match the inventor's printed name (Xuanming Shi) on the declaration. The undersigned respectfully certifies that the signature on the Declaration is the true signature of the inventor "Xuanming Shi". The difference is caused by the different translation convention used in Taiwan and China.

The inventor is a resident of Taiwan where the inventor's first and last names are translated as "Hsuan Ming" and "Shih" respectively and the inventor has been signing his names as they are translated in Taiwan. Because the PCT application was filed in China where the government requires translation of the same Chinese name as “Xuanming” and “Shi”. As a result, the declaration appears to have similar but mismatched signature and printed name.

As the signature is true signature of the inventor and a few other PCT patent applications of the inventor's have also been filed and accepted with the same practice, it is respectfully requested that the declaration filed on 3/15/2005 be accepted.

If you have any further questions, please feel free to call the undersigned. Your assistance is greatly appreciated and if the response is not acceptable, please inform the undersigned as soon as possible to avoid abandonment of the application.

Respectfully submitted,
